Subject: RE: Letter to Ontario Jobs and Recovery Committee

Dear Mayor Rochefort,

Thank you for taking the time to write to express your interest in a meeting to discuss your thoughts about how Ontario's economy can recover after the COVID-19 outbreak is contained. Our Ontario Jobs and Recovery Committee is working together to get our economy moving again – with a focus on job creation, opportunities for growth, and protecting our province from future threats.

Our primary focus remains on the immediate healthcare response to the global pandemic, as well as providing urgent relief to people and employers. We're confident in our healthcare professionals, and by following their advice and ensuring they have the resources they need to do their jobs, we know that Ontario will emerge from the current crisis.

We are actively considering the best methods to gather valuable input from partners like you in these exceptional circumstances, while being mindful of safe practices to prevent any further spread of COVID-19. A staff member from my office will follow up with you regarding your request.

By starting this work early, acting decisively, and working with our partners in other levels of government, civil society and the private sector, our province will recover. We were confident in Ontario's future before COVID-19, and we remain confident today.

Sincerely,

Office of the Minister of Finance
